

1. Initial considerations

Hi, hello, welcome. This is a compilation of a lot of links, and when I say a lot, I do mean it. As of posting this, there's already half of the maximum 40k characters allowed by Reddit, so take of that what you will. There's not just maid, but also artists intertwined with the world of maidcore, youtube channels, videos, and more. I want this to be a go-to resource for anyone looking for something specific, so I tried my best to be as thorough as possible.

Before we begin with the linkdumping, though, there are some thing that I would like to clear up beforehand, so as to not cause any confusion later on. Don't worry, it's nothing too serious, and anything here written can be subjected to change depending on the community input. I'd also like to point out that this is probably much better viewed from a computer screen.

Firstly, I won't be putting all the links to all platforms, since there are a lot of maids and I'm already wasting characters by writing this. My plan is to have the most links to all maids (that I know of as of writing this) and honorary maids.

Secondly, to make it easier on myself, I'll be using acronyms instead of the full names of the websites. To make it easier for you, the reader, the acronyms used will be listed below:

[BC] - Bandcamp
[BS] - BlueSky
[IG] - Instagram
[FB] - Facebook
[IA] - Internet Archive
[R] - Reddit
[SC] - SoundCloud
[T] - Telegram
[TW] - Twitch
[TT] - TikTok
[VK] - VKontakte
[YT] - Youtube
[X] - Twitter

Now, with that out of the way, we can finally get started!

2. Artists

In this part we will be going through the artists within maidcore, both maids and non maids, though I will be separating them. I will make it clear that I will not be including Spotify links, since they are pretty damn long and I want as much space as I can get for any future changes. I also won't be putting links to donation websites, since they are very inconsistent between all the maids. If you really want to support your favorite maid, you should be able to find it without my help. If you guys feel like it should be here, though, please do communicate as so. I'm trying to make the best index as I can, so any community input is very much appreciated.

2.1. Maids

These are the classical ones, those who have adorned themselves with the garment of a true maid, be it for a little side project or as their form to express their feelings. Each and every maid has a different story to tell, unique tales that all deserve to be heard, their particular trajectory through life that led them all into this weird little community. Well, I think that's enough rambling. You aren't here for that, now are you? Fine. Here's the list. Make sure you don't get lost~

2.2. Honorary maids

These are not exactly maids, but they have been either making kind of the same style as maidcore or have been contributing (making music, participating in collabs, etc) to the community for so long that they might as well be given a duster and get right onto cleaning with the de facto maids. This part would be a lot more empty if not for KaitaiSurale, so if you haven't already do go check him out in his own part of this post.

3. Other stuff

Now we're getting close to the end. Just a little bit more. Now we'll be talking about other relevant websites and people who aren't exactlr maids, not een honorary ones. Think of compilation channels, wikis, lists, community gatherings, and such.

3.1. Compilation channels

These are folks whose channels are all dedicated to promoting maids and honorary maids. Their very expansive archive helped me lots in finding new maids and getting all the links I needed. I'm putting here only those channels who are focused solely on maidcore, as there are way too many channels who have at some point made compilations that include maidcore.

3.4. Some videos on Maidcore

Neither music videos nor compilations, just full-on long-form content about maidcore. There aren't a lot, and, since I don't really know russian and yt search sucks, I will definitely let some pass, so please do link me any videos that are not included here. Same goes for any of the previous categories.

4. Final considerations

This whole gathering of lists was done on my free time (well, mostly by neglecting my other hobbies since I wanted to get this done reasonably quickly), so I know for a fact that it is far from perfect. Even while writing these last few parts I stumbled upon maids I hadn't seen before, so who knows who else is hiding just around the corner, broomstick in hand, ready to get on this line of job. For the time being, I'll try to keep this index somewhat updated, but who knows for how long this motivation will last. If you know an artist, a channel, a group chat or whatever that hasn't been included in here, please do let me know. This list is most definitely not perfect, and Maidcore is not a static thing, so I hope this list isn't the final version of it. If it ever comes a time (and I'm sure it will, eventually) when this whole thing starts gathering dust in the corner, unattended, I kindly ask that someone keep working on it. This whole thing wouldn't have been possible if it weren't for the already existing resources available around the community, and my only wish with this is to make it easier for folks getting into maidcore to get the most out of their experience. After all, there are some really obscure maids, some of which you can't even find anything about them anymore!

(Oh, also, if there's any error, be it a dead link not properly labeled, something out of order or a typo somewhere, do notify me as well. English isn't my first language, so sometimes errors slip right through my keyboard and into whatever I'm writing without me noticing okay byyye~)
